

Your Job Just Got a Whole Lot Easier

"I have really gotten hooked on your program, and am using it exclusively now. Keep up the good work. Terry A. Bell"

ServiceBuilder is church service music planning software for praise and worship leaders. This program is filled with thousands of worship songs and hymns, as well as albums and specials, dramas, readings, video clips, and more. With ServiceBuilder, planning a worship service in advance is easier than ever. Connecting with your team members, organising, booking, scheduling, planning and anything else that needs to be prepared is consolidated into one program.

Whether your worship teams are made up of paid staff or volunteers, you'll appreciate the time saved planning worship services when ServiceBuilder is put to work. Imagine having one secure place on the Internet where worship team members can come to see the order of service, to listen and learn worship songs, to download chord charts or lyrics! The time you save not doing mundane office work can be used to actually provide leadership to your worship teams!

This database was designed by a music director/worship leader. I've been refining and perfecting it almost every day since 1995. That's intense! People started telling me I owed it to music pastors and worship leaders everywhere to make this powerful database available for their church worship service planning. I like to think of it as a way to share my gifts with the church body at large.

An organised worship leader can be a reality. Experience it for yourself. Download our shareware version to see how your life just got more organized!

The Possibilities

Manage People - Organise, contact and maintain your lists of musicians and volunteers!

Manage Scheduling - Any kind of scheduling... any number of services, any type of event.

Unlimited Filing - Digitally store all of your praise and worship music, chord charts, lyrics, dramas, video clips, readings, or anything else!

Volunteers Love It

Too often finding a volunteer to lead teams is difficult because the administrative tasks are overwhelming and unappealing to them. If ServiceBuilder is allowed to automatically handle administration, you'll find yourself with more and happier volunteers.

Harness the Internet

Confirmations with church musicians can be automated! Let people click a link in their email program to confirm they're present at rehearsal or at the service. See at a glance who has confirmed, and who hasn't! Click their name to phone them or email them.

Here's a Schedule Scenario:

As a worship pastor, you plan a schedule for two months in advance. You want to use as many of the musicians as possible, so you usually rotate the instrumentalists through two bands alternating each week, and the vocalists through four teams.

Some of the people have given you a range of dates for which they are not available. Others have expressed a desire to play less frequently. Certain spouses wish to be involved in the same service.

ServiceBuilder takes your input, and assembles a schedule for everyone automatically.

You then click one button to send a web link. This link lets the team see the dates on which they've been placed, with the role they'll be filling. They click a button on this web page to import these dates into their calendar software automatically.

Some people may inform you they cannot be involved on the dates you've scheduled them. You open the 'unavailable' form, and add their names to the list. You then click 'Conflicts,' and ServiceBuilder shows you the problems in your schedule which need to be fixed.

The changes you make, are instantly available to your team via their personal web link. They can add this link to their favourites to see when they're scheduled anytime!

Here's a Worship Planning Scenario:

ServiceBuilder automatically sends confirmations out to your team at the beginning of the week. Your volunteers click a 'confirm' link in the email, and their name is checked off in your database automatically. This email also contains important information: a link to the songs you're planning (even if you haven't picked them!), the order of service, important notes and comments... chord charts, lyrics, drama scripts, special music, or even MP3 files!
